School Partnerships Program and Shepparton High School

Since 2014 La Trobe University’s School Partnerships Program (SPP) has been working with Shepparton High School to embed a program in the school curriculum that informs students’ aspirations at our school.

Working together SPP and Shepparton High School strive to increase student awareness of their potential to participate in higher education.

For 7-10 schools: A range of targeted activities have been developed that engage and link students and their school communities to the University.
